Apologies:
Actions from the last meeting:	- Share the minutes from the meeting - We discussed the point raised about corridors and talked about some different solutions. We agreed that each class could appoint 2 corridor monitors. We talked about what this responsibility involved. - Mrs Tracy said she would gather the computing suite expectations and organise for agreed expectations to be shared and displayed. - We discussed the purpose of Comic Relief is and what a comic is - Next time we will be looking at some the jokes brought in for Comic Relief and choosing some of our favourite ones

Feedback from Classes and Representatives
General	The children fed back their notes from their books and we talked about some of the points raised by the children.
Hedgehog Class	Notes from book: Computer Expectations: - Focusing, ready to learn and looking - Quiet when teacher talking - Sitting nicely - Don't touch computers and keys when you're not supposed to Other notes: Children need to use the footballs properly. Do not aim for each others faces.
Otter Class	Notes from book: Computer Suite: - Use the equipment sensibly - Walking - No water or food - Follow instructions - Listen to each other Other: - Pegs are getting messy - Balls for lunchtime – we are only allowed 3 because they keep going over the fence
Squirrel Class	Notes from book:
Fox Class	Notes from book:
Badger Class	Notes from book: Computer suite expectations of behaviour - Listen to the teacher - Sitting quietly - Don't go on random games / programs unless you are told to - Don't touch anything unless you are asked - Don't be too noisy - Be respectful of the equipment
Dragonfly Class	Notes from book:
Newt Class	Notes from book: Computing Suite Expectations: - We should not be clicking or typing when the teacher is talking - We should use an inside voice - We do not touch wires - Only use the computer for what you have been asked to do - Don't delete your work until your adult has checked - Sensibly move your chair so you can see the board
Heron Class	Notes from book: We talked about the 50 acts of kindness and the zones of regulation sticks with the whole class. Safiye said if we don't listen or we are noisy in the computer suite then our computers get locked. - Treat the equipment nicely and respectfully so it doesn't break. - Don't touch the screens they are really expensive - Don't pull the wires or the mouse too hard - Don't smash the buttons - Don't bang the mouse down We agreed to stay in our seats and look after the equipment
Duck Class	Notes from book: Expectations for the new computing suite: You shouldn't break the computers

	• You shouldn't scrape the chairs • Don't look at things that are too old for you • Don't stand on the chairs • No running in the room • No food or drink allowed • Listen to the teacher and be quiet • Ask somebody more confident for help • Look at the displays for help and vocabulary • Line up sensibly outside
